Synopsis

La Fille Mal Gardée is a comedic ballet set during the 18th century. It follows the story of Lise and her mother Widow Simone. Widow Simone wants her daughter to marry a rich and simple-minded suitor, Alain. However, Lise is in love with another man, a farmer named Colas.

Lise and the Widow live along the French countryside, tending to their farm and many chickens. During the time of harvest, Lise and villagers partake in celebrations including a clog dance, a tambourine dance, and a ribbon dance around a maypole.

Throughout the ballet, Widow Simone keeps an ever-watchful eye over her daughter, attempting to keep her separated from Colas by putting her to work around the house and farm. However, Lise still daydreams of Colas and their life together. One day, Alain comes to the family's house with a notary to complete the marriage contract, only to find Lise and Colas together. Despite her many attempts to separate the two, Widow Simone begrudgingly accepts Lise and Colas together. Lise, Colas, and the villagers rejoice, celebrating their love.
